Hyatt Midtown
Atlanta, GA

84″ (213cm) x 95″ (241cm) x 72″ (183cm)

"This hotel was deemed "The Jewel of Midtown" in Atlanta., GA. Inspired by the faceted forms of cut crystals and gems, we used smaller faceted crystals to create a larger faceted form reminiscent of a crystal chaton. There are about 1700 strands with a single crystal on each. Using this method we could create any shape or form really with crystal!"

Swarovski Office

Gdansk, Poland

29.5′ (897cm) x 19.5′ (594cm) x 82.5′ (2517cm)

“Site restrictions can be opportunities for design innovation! In this case, mouting was limited to 2 rails on either side of the atrium. To create something interesting and dynamic between these rails we used the weight of the faceted crystal ball hung off center strategically on each strand to pull the strands slightly to one side or the other creating sail like volumes and dynamic curves through the space. Spot lights were installed around the atrium to bring some brilliance to the crystal.”

"Inspired by graphic representations of crashing waves and mosaics, this wall of different colored metal discs and crystals creates a sparkling wave mosaic that seems to move as you walk around it. Each one of the over 100,000 individual components was placed to create the desired effect. This mix of crystal and metal has infinite opportunities for lighting fixtures, art pieces, and impactful installations."

"Inspired by the California landscape and mountains meeting the water, a central mountainscape is surrounded by a fluid water element. The way the uplights project the fluid inspired metal pattern onto the ceiling really magnifies the already 56ft x 28ft x 6ft installation to look even more impactful and enchanting."
